

No Danger Of Elm Falling, Is Belief Of Forestry Expert

There is no danger of the old elm in the centre of the Timothy St. pavement falling, an expert stated on Monday evening.

C. K. Brobst, of the Brobst Forestry Co., Toronto, made an examination of the tree at the request of Councillor Frank Bowser, chairman of the road and bridge committee of the town council.

Norman Williams, president of Newmarket Horticultural Society, Sanford King, manager of the Pickering College farm, and Datus Crowder, town foreman, were present on the invitation of Mr. Bowser.

Mr. Brobst recommended the cutting out of all dead wood and bark from the trunk as a preliminary step. He would then be in a position to give further advice and recommend preservation treatment.

He estimated the age of the tree at from 150 to 220 years. It measures in circumference 18 feet, five inches at the butt.

As the council does not meet until the second Monday in July, Mr. Bowser said that he would talk the matter over informally with council members. The work should be done before the end of August, Mr. Brobst recommended.

Potato Sprayers Will Be Used In York County

"Improved methods of potato culture have made such strides locally in the past three or four years that commercial growers are now planning almost entirely on power sprayers and dusters." Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn said this week.

"Owing to restrictions in the production of farm machinery, the 18 or 20 York county growers who have ordered power dusters have been required to undertake, on contract, the dusting of 50 acres or more of custom dusting.

"Although orders were placed last November in order to get a larger number of the machines imported, bottleneck on parts and army inductions have held up delivery of the implements. One company, held up for a time on the engines for the dusters, is now making deliveries and expects to make York county deliveries this week," said Mr. Cockburn.

As many fields are now ready to dust, Mr. Cockburn is hoping to arrange with the more fortunate operators to help out other custom operators to take care of their customers and thus save the potato crop till the other machines are delivered.

TELLS OF HOT TIME IN ITALY, NAZIS FLEE

"Just a few lines to let you know how things are down here and to say thanks a million for the 300 cigarettes I received from the Veterans the other day," A-Sgt. J. Oliver writes in a letter of appreciation to George Calver, secretary of the Mount Albert Veterans' Association. "Please pass on my sincere appreciation to all members. It's swell to get them from you lads who know what we are going through down here now."

"As some of the boys in my section were out of smokes they certainly came at the right time. Well, as you will no doubt know by now, we Canadians in Italy finally got our chance and, boy, the 24th of May will forever be a red-letter day in the history of this regiment. It was then we hit the Hitler line and smashed through to make the farthest advance in one day in the history of this war. I believe, and we are all very proud of it. The Germans wondered what hit them. I guess, because they haven't stopped running yet."

"Our regiment followed the tanks through the spearhead. It was sure hot and heavy for a while and I'd never seen such fireworks in all my life. Boy, what a day! The Jerries were coming over with their hands in the air in no time. I stumbled on to two of them, lying quietly in a ditch and took them in. I got a good watch from one of them. They were a sorry-looking bunch and they were his best division he had in Italy that opposed us."

"Our artillery barrage left nothing to be desired. The Jerries were still sort of in a daze, some of them, when our boys went through. A lot of them were just kids, 17 and 18 years old. It gave us a grand feeling to finally get at close quarters with Jerry and know we were the better team. Although we lost a lot of our good men, the casualty section surprised me. On the whole it was very light considering what we had to go through."

"The advance continued for five days for us and we sure had our share of fun and dodging shells. We are out resting now and thoroughly enjoying it, I can assure you."

"Our big guns have rolled on by us now and they must be well in front of us, because we can't hear them firing at all. This means our information section told us that Rome had fallen to the Yanks. So that's pretty good work. I figure the air force here are bombing the roads north of Rome now. Fifty of them went over here just a few minutes ago. They must be having a field day too with all the German transport trying to get back north on the roads. One report says they knocked out 600 vehicles yesterday, which isn't bad. I hope the enemy's experience of the morning during the advance. We had contacted mines up in front and, as they are my specialty, I with two men from my section, led the battalion along this road and cleared the mines away for them. We were getting along fine when suddenly one of the officers darted up a little path off the road and came out with a German at the end of his pistol."

"Well, all hell broke loose then. We had run into a few well concealed German machine-gun nests along the road and there I was with my two men at the head of the battalion and no weapons with us, as we can't very well carry them while working on the mines. However, I had laid out a few of the company boys came up and, surrounding the place, they shot it out and soon we had seven German prisoners, one of them wounded in the shoulder."

"Things quieted down then and I helped the medical bandage up the Jerry and then we took the German rifles and Schminler and I marched them back over country for six miles. Boy, we were sure lucky that morning and I was happy when I turned them over to my major. He got quite a laugh out of the fact that I had to borrow the German's own weapons to bring them in with."

"I took the iron cross off one of those birds. I'm keeping it as a souvenir. I'm looking forward to the day I'll be able to thank all the Veterans in person. So keep your chin up. We've got Jerry where we want him now."

MAY 24 FIRECRACKERS CAME A DAY EARLY

Tpr. Howard Norton, serving overseas, writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Norton, Glenville, under date of May 23: "I'm almost finished the course I have been on. We had our final exam. yesterday but we won't know how we made out till tomorrow afternoon but I think I did o.k. Then we get a month's practical work in a shop in London. At least, that's where I think we will be going. I learnt a bit about Diesel motors today, and I think maybe I'll pass as a motor mechanic. I'll try for a course in Diesel."

"We had an air raid last night but no damage was done around here. Boy, the old ack-ack guns were making a great noise."

Soldiers Will Again Help Farmers With Production Of Food

Arrangements have again been made by Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn for farmers in the Newmarket and Aurora district to secure farm commando help from the Newmarket military camp for two or three hours in the evening.

Applications for help must be phoned to the agricultural office at Newmarket, phone 178, by 10 a.m., so that Mr. Cockburn's staff can contact the camp officials during the morning parade hours.

Last year a considerable number of Newmarket and district farmers received valuable assistance by taking out a carload of soldiers to help with haying, hoeing and harvesting. The farmers call at the camp entrance for "the boys," pay them at least 25 cents an hour and give them a lunch before returning them to camp.

Most of the boys going out have had farm experience and have proven satisfactory. The men must be called for promptly at 5.45 p.m., otherwise they will consider they are not being called for.

A number of Newmarket business men and employees in the various plants will be going out again if and when required. In addition, there will occasionally be some all-day help available through the Toronto farm commando brigade. For the latter, there will have to be requests for ten to 12 to make up truckloads on account of the transportation problem.

Western harvesters are expected to commence arriving this week, according to Jas. D. Moore, assistant agricultural representative, who is helping with this work.

SAY 50 WAR VETERANS NOW LIE IN CEMETERY

The sun shone for Decoration Day observances at Newmarket cemetery on Sunday afternoon. In the absence of the president, W. L. Bosworth, absent for the first time in many years, W. H. Helmer presided over the service.

Mr. Helmer expressed appreciation of the work of the caretaker, Wallace Adams, and his wife. He suggested that lot-owners should endow their lots to provide for permanent upkeep.

"A sincere vote of thanks is due to the cemetery board and to Mr. Adams and his associates," said Councillor J. A. Perks, speaking on behalf of the town council. "Even with all the beauty of the flowers, the most sincere tribute we can pay is to have our lives conform to the thoughts and aspirations of those who have gone before, particularly our mothers and fathers."

"Those who made the life we are living today are not necessarily those who were most prominent, but those who followed the best precepts," said Rev. Dr. Robert Bruce, New York city, who spoke at the Congregational-Christian church on Sunday morning.

"Those who are remembering today want us to make this the finest work possible," said Dr. Bruce.

W. I. McElwain, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and Rev. Henry Cotton, Trinity United church, offered prayers.

Following the general service there was a short ceremony at the Veterans' plot, conducted by Rev. Henry Cotton, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith, president of the Newmarket Veterans. Wm. Craig sounded the bugle calls for the lowering and raising of the flag.

Mr. Cotton said that there were now 50 war veterans interred in Newmarket cemetery. He asked for remembrance of those Newmarket soldiers also who lay in other cemeteries, some in distant lands. He spoke of those who were even at that moment "fighting, bleeding, dying in the cause of freedom."

WESTERLY WIND

Saskatchewan's farmers have elected a C.C.F. government. It is evident either that they are satisfied that their own representatives will not take their farms from them or that they would be happy if someone would take their farms from them. Agnes Macphail, speaking in Newmarket recently, told of a poor lady with a large family who, following a C.C.F. meeting, asked one of the speakers: "Is it true that the C.C.F. is going to take our children from us?"

"Why, of course not, madam," said the C.C.F. speaker. "Oh," sighed the disappointed woman, "I knew it was too good to be true."

Miss Macphail thought that many farmers knew that the allegation that the C.C.F. would take their farms from them was "too good to be true."

There are some extremist remarks, promises or threats made on behalf of the C.C.F., and there is a great deal of extremist anti-C.C.F. propaganda. The Saskatchewan election, if it indicates anything, would seem to mean that the public is not going to judge the C.C.F. on the extremist remarks made for or against it.

The issue presented by the C.C.F. is whether or not private business is to be controlled, and whether or not our economic life is to be planned. It is not an easy question to which to give a yes or no answer, and it is not likely that there will be a yes or no answer. The older parties are admitting a great part of the popular social and economic viewpoint which the C.C.F. represents, and as a result they are likely to keep the C.C.F. a minority party at the next dominion election.

The three parties would seem to be in much the same predicament. A bare majority of seats would be 125, but that is a high proportion of the 180 other-than-Quebec seats for any party to achieve. The Liberal party, which the 1943 Ontario election put in third position in this province, can hope to win some seats in Quebec, and the other two parties can hope for the election of Quebec groups which would give them support.

Our thought is that in the next dominion election no party is likely to achieve a majority and that the party which forms a government will have to yield a good deal to the viewpoint of the other parties. The result would be that Canada would "muddle through" in traditional British fashion, taking a middle-of-the-road course and answering neither yes nor no to the question of a planned economy.

The party which gains power, whether it be with a clear majority or with the support of another party or group, will be committed to the maintenance of a high level of employment, to a widened social security, to a better standard of living for the farmer, and to an external policy of co-operation with other nations in the encouragement of trade and the maintenance of world peace.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

THANKFULNESS

It's a good thing that this column is called the Common Round, for into it go thoughts and problems and mistakes common to all us ordinary people.

And today, I'm starting off with an apology—an apology to Union Street Institute, for I see that I omitted their name from the list of Institutes in my District Annual report.

I was present at the forming of Union Street Institute and know how well they have worked and count some of their members among my friends, so can only say—I'm sorry.

I don't suppose an apology sounds like a source of thankfulness, but what I really have in mind, in writing this, is that I've always thought there should be a thanksgiving day in the spring or early summer as well as in the fall—a thanksgiving for promise as well as for fulfillment.

On this beautiful June morning, when the earth looks as if it had sprung new-made from the hand of God, I think there comes to each one of us a deep sense of our unworthiness, a wonder why WE should have all this beauty and the rich promise of harvest, when famine, desolation and terror sweep so much of the world.

From where I sit I can see the rich colors of iris, and lupin and lilies, smell the fragrance of syringa and see delphinium and rose bushes heavy with buds.

The new strawberry row looks neat and effective, in contrast with the old bed, which is like a nest of grass but is also a saving cushion for the berries. The vegetables are thrusting up, looking pert and capable and evidently getting ready to yield of their goodness, and everywhere is something growing.

I can hear the robins giving instructions to their young, their voices insistent, as they scold, cajole and encourage the small fry to get busy and get out of the nest.

From a limb of the spruce opposite our kitchen window my better half hung a tiny bird-house, and this year a pair of wrens are in proud possession. We watched them dragging in big twigs and at last they had one which seemed to block completely the already tiny doorway. So I asked Archie to take it away, which he did.

Imagine our humiliation when a wren sat on his or her verandah and told us, in no uncertain terms, to mind our own business. They knew theirs—we didn't. Having relieved his or her mind, it went off and brought back two or three much larger twigs, with which it formed a much more effective barricade. Then, with a last indignant ripple of notes and a flit of its tail, it slid through what looked like an impassable barrier and we could hear it muttering anathemas on stupid humans.

The lady wren's mate sits near, and, if cats or crows come near, utters a loud burst of notes. We have king-birds, robins, song and tree sparrows, phoebes, cuckoos, orioles, flickers and chippies, all in the orchard, and our morning concerts and vespers are a lovely thing to hear—another cause for thanksgiving.

A while ago Woolly came into the house and we asked the whereabouts of Tiger, but she disdained to reply and settled for a nap on her favorite window-sill.

"No doubt she left Tiger in Candy's care," said I, and in about half an hour, sure enough, in walked Candy, with Tiger trailing behind.

Candy then proceeded to wash his (Tiger's) face, examine his ears, search his tail for burrs, and, having seen that he had a saucer of milk, led him out, with an indignant glance at Woolly, as much as to say, "This is a little beneath the dignity of a cat of my size and years."

But Woolly ignored him and only after finishing her nap did she condescend to go out and seek for the two.

She cried in a lamentable manner when she couldn't find them, but, as the walls have ceased, I fancy the family are re-united.

I heard a train whistle just now as it sped through the lovely green land on its regular course. No bombs will fall upon it, no obstacles de-rail it. We can walk our roads, and not have to fall into ditches for shelter from a machine-gun. We have beauty and bounty all about us. We can be thankful without a set day.

Why DO CANADIANS Like THE BANK OF MONTREAL?

It is not by chance that the Bank has a million satisfied depositors, besides thousands of other friends who use its services in various ways. There are substantial reasons, chief of which, we believe, are as follows:

First, Confidence. Canadians of every occupation—farmers, labourers, mechanics, office workers, home workers, business managers and clerks, corporation executives, professional men and women—believe in the Bank, because of its history and traditions, its strength and its known service to the nation.

Second, Experience. These Canadians know, by personal experience in dealings with the Bank, they can rely on it—come good times or bad, peace or war—for the kind of banking service they need.

Third, Modern Methods. Due to our modern methods, a spirit of helpfulness, and the practical efficiency of our staff, customers find it pleasant to transact business at the Bank, whether it be at the Head Office, one of our large city branches, or the smallest branch in the smallest town.

If you are not a customer of the Bank, you are invited to become one.

Brice, 83 Andrew St., and Mrs. Ross Armitage, R. R. 3, all of Newmarket, are this week's winners. They may pick up their passes any evening at the Strand theatre.

Those who sent in correct answers but did not win this week have been given a credit in the puzzle editor's file which will be used in breaking future lies.

"Shadow of a Doubt," starring Macdonald Carey and Patricia Collinge and "Intermezzo," starring Leslie Howard and Ingrid Bergman, are the features at the Strand theatre for Thursday, June 29. The five winners of this week's contest have their choice of either evening.

The correct answers were: extension, insulated, payment, platform, ganders, agents, especially, buckwheat, cement and location.

IN MEMORIAM

Chantler—In loving memory of my darling little grandson, Charles (Buddy) Chantler, who went to be with Jesus June 22, 1937. Safe in the arms of Jesus.

No stain was on his little heart
Sin had not entered there And innocence slept sweetly on
That pale, white brow so fair:
He was too pure for this cold earth.

Too beautiful to stay,
And so God's holy angels
Bore our darling one away.

Always lovingly remembered by his Grandma Jones, Auntie Lil, Uncle Vess and Uncle Bill.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Heath and family, Aurora, wish to thank their relatives, neighbors and friends for the beautiful flowers and messages of sympathy extended during their recent bereavement in the loss of a dear son and brother, Pte. Bill Heath, killed in action in France on June 7.

CARD OF THANKS

W. Workman wishes to thank the committee and the employees of the Davis Leather Co. for the fruit sent to him and other kind-nesses shown while he was in the hospital.

TELLS W.I. OF ORIGIN OF WOMEN'S VOTE

The monthly meeting of the Newmarket Women's Institute was held Thursday at Mrs. Elton Armstrong's. There was a large attendance. Everyone enjoyed a pot-luck lunch. Mrs. Max Smith presided over the meeting. Mrs. A. H. Woods gave an interesting paper on citizenship. She said that Finland was the first country to have the women's vote. New Zealand was the first country in the British empire. New Zealand women had their first vote in 1893.

An installation was read from the Queensville branch inviting the Newmarket branch to meet with them at Mrs. Percy Boag's on June 29. All those wishing to go will meet at the post office at 2 o'clock for transportation.

WILL RE-DEDICATE HONOR ROLL AT SUNDAY SERVICE

Dominion day will be observed on Sunday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The roll of honor of men and women connected with the church and serving with his majesty's forces in this war will be re-dedicated. Ten names will be added to the roll, making the total number 64. A copy of the roll will be available to every person attending either service.

Special prayers will be said for those in the armed services. Both services will be conducted by the minister, W. I. McElwain.

ATTEND CITY WEDDING

A church wedding of interest to Newmarket residents took place in Toronto on Saturday when Lella Mary Ross Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Walker, Toronto, became the bride of Walter Ross Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ross, Toronto. Rev. Frank A. Brunton, Newmarket, officiated.

The bride is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Ross, former Newmarket residents. The bride attended school in Newmarket for a few years.

Among those attending the wedding were LAC Jim Otton, Mrs. S. W. Otton, Donald Davis, Mrs. Frank A. Brunton, all of Newmarket, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harvey, uncle and aunt of the bride, former Newmarket residents now residing at Lakeview. Mr. Harvey is a former editor of the Express-Herald.

No. 3 CACTUS journeyed down to Newmarble with a pretty ball team and an interesting game resulted. No. 3 led most of way, Newmarble having to win, Newmarble being the away team. The game was pretty close, but Cactus won by a steady game for Newmarble and Mills as his battery-mate.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Aurora C.W.A.C. girls have organized a softball club, which only needs practice and coaching to make a good showing. Handicapped by not being able to play in a regular league, the girls are playing a series with the Sisman Shoe team and will play against other service teams in the district, including the khaki cuties from No. 22 R.T.C.

The girls hoped to be included in the schedule with the Newmarket lassies but like the girls from Camp Young apparently were not encouraged to participate in a regular league schedule.

Leon Mills, Ordnance soccer player who hails from Hamilton, is coaching the team. They have selected blue and white sweaters and white shorts for their uniforms. Later they expect to have sufficient funds to purchase stockings to match. While there are no big name players on the team, many of the girls have had softball experience in civilian life and in any case make up for playing experience with zip and chatter.

Dorothy Watling from St. Catharines is handling the receiving duties, with Anne Schroeder, a western girl, on the rubber. The duo are working well together and will improve. The infield includes, Monica Young, Brantford, Sue Kallagan, from St. Kitts, a hold-over from last season, and two Edmonton lassies, Stella Danylack and Vera Bennetts. Freda Eamon, Cornwall, Kay Norris, "Sonny" Sonier and Eleanor Riches, a Toronto trio, are the favored outfielders. Zeda Vernon of Montreal and Millie Van Koughnet of Winnipeg are utility players ready to take a post at the shortest notice.

The girls played in Hamilton this week and will likely be seen in action at the Aurora Red Cross carnival this month. One thing is sure, they will not lack ardent supporters, win, lose or draw.

Girls' softball is a favorite at Aurora and townspeople, as well as plant workers, soldiers and civilians will be on hand to have a look. The organization of girls' softball at Newmarket recalls to mind the splendid success our friend, Alex Webster, had a few years back when he brought girls' softball out to play clever ball and ultimately win district honors. We know Alex takes particular pride in discovering Marij McCarnan, today one of Ontario's leading girl softballers. Perhaps you have been wondering about the "Old Man River" of North York softball, who in our books, along with Teddy Bennett, rates as one of the best ever to perform in these parts. Well the big boy is located in Mount Dennis now and for the past few years has been performing in the C.C.M. house league and the Mount Dennis industrial league. Each year, with great regularity, he wound up on the winning C.C.M. team and last year crowned it all by taking his team through to the Mount Dennis title. In so doing, incidentally, he didn't lose a single game.

This year he is with another firm but figured, as did his mates, he would be permitted to play for

C.C.M., as permission was granted other players not employed with the firm, and to players of other teams in the group. The league executive, however, ruled he was ineligible to play for C.C.M. since he didn't work there and in turn denied his services. C.C.M. said if he didn't play for them he wouldn't play for anyone else.

That means that at 42 the end of the softball trail may be in sight for "Big Alex," although we have our suspicions he'll turn up somewhere. While the big fellow hasn't all the skill he once had, the trusty old right arm is plenty dangerous and, of course, brains and experience can cover a lot of things. Don't forget his ability at the plate either. Alex says, "I don't think much of the coming generation of ball players and I still say I can strike out my old pals, Peters and VanZant, with the paths a logged (are you listening boys?)."

For years Alex was booed consistently by Aurora crowds, but, strange to say, the last softball he played in North York was for Aurora and it must have seemed strange for him to receive applause in the Aurora park. Wonder if he still thinks most umpires are blind? We have vivid recollections of some stormy scenes with Alex in the midst of it. Personally, we hope Webster gets a chance to toe the rubber and show the Mount Dennis smoothies what it is all about. Dave Silk is a name that will well be remembered by Aurora and district hockey fans. Silk, as you will recall, was the goalie for the Orangeville team of 1937-38, which ousted Aurora in the junior C finals. Like all his team-mates, he enlisted for active service in the present struggle and now, after two years overseas with the engineers, has returned to Canada, apparently headed for a discharge. A Shelburne boy, Silk and Grant Gillespie, almost single-handed, defeated Aurora. The next season Barrie imported him and he played a strong game there too.

Wilkie Fleury, a former Aurora hockey, baseball and lacrosse star, is now fire chief at a big Malton war industry. Wilkie went overseas with the 48th Highlanders, saw service at Dunkirk, was invalided home, honorably discharged and then was employed with the Toronto fire department. Now he has moved on to bigger and better things and congratulations are in order to the genial "Fluke".

Simcoe softballers thought better of adopting the Patterson trophy as their own and "Salesman Sam" Stransman has come through with a handsome trophy for the flourishing mushball league. Right now Wes, Perry, former Aurora hurler, has his team at the head of the pack while Cpl. Howard Leonard, ex-Aurora, coach of the Aurora team, has his players out in front in the other division. Have a look over the roster of players and you will see some of the familiar names. Harry, for instance, have Perry, Steve Hines, once ace third sacker of the York Simcoe league, George Miles, the Midhurst-Barrie second sacker, Freddy Norris, son of Aurora's Cecil Norris, a neat outer-gardener and, in addition, Jack Doyle, the big Barrie boy who played pro hockey the last year with Chicago and Buffalo.

C.N.R. have Earl Marshall, badly injured two years ago against Richmond Hill, Ivan Giesey, the port-colored boxer and umpire de jour, Mory Stransman, former Rocky Aces player, Billy Bell, ex-Killdale Imperials, and Percy Thompson, the flyweight hitter whom Ralph Adams once picked as the best softball first sacker in the district, to the amusement of all concerned.

Jack Hays, among others, Jimmy Neil, Barney Reid, Don McMaster of Midhurst (now a really fine hurler), Ralph Hanson and Stan Evans, the Glenora hurler, Newmarket boy who is playing baseball this year, are all the crowd will be remembered for their last hockey performances for the Bobcats two years ago. The other teams are more or less composed of youngsters, but it seems to be a case of "old softailers never die."

Freddy Miles and Ed Crawford, two of Ontario's best-known officials and two of the best we have ever seen work, are featuring with their customary good calling.

We might just as well continue along this vein, to announce that Ken Guilfoyle, for years a rival of Alex Webster and a hugbear to the Redmen, is also back in form and is doing mound wonders for a firm in the Oshawa softball league. Guilfoyle once pitched Barrie to an O.A.S. title, then went south to join fame with the famous North Carolina Spartans and last year was with an aircraft firm at Collingwood. Twenty, a regular wumkin on the mound in the late 30's, can still best most of the present crop of hitters.

Ossie Marican, the 17-year-old youngster who guarded the nets for the Newmarket Redmen upon occasions last winter and had his troubles, particularly so far as head injuries from the puck were concerned, is now stationed at No. 1 C.A.C.B. Camp Borden. A few weeks ago, with limited training behind him, Marican competed in the Borden district cross-country run for No. 1 and finished in the second spot over a tough course against a large field, a highly creditable showing for the youngster. Fans last winter commented upon his intestinal fortitude on more than one occasion, and cross-country running requires plenty of the old moxie too.

Brampton camp won the area championship in cross-country running at Brampton a few weeks ago and then on June 12 at Newmarket captured the district championship. At Brampton, Cameron of Newmarket won the individual title, romping home ahead of the field. Cameron, a New Brunswick lad, advanced into the district finals despite the fact the boys from canal-town were eliminated. In the district meet, L-Cpl. Milt. Wallace of Simcoe camp took first place, running the stiff course in 10 minutes, 45 secs. Wallace was an Olympic runner for Canada in the 1936 games at Berlin. Cameron finished a close second, the experienced veteran only overtaking him in the last half-mile and beating him by a few yards.

Phumley, of the hockey team, and Joint McComb, who needs no introduction, were members of the Brampton team. We bet you got a big kick out of that last one just as we did. Cpl. McComb is now a P.T. expert and in the best condition of his entire career. The course laid out under the eagle eye of Major Adams, sports enthusiast at Newmarket camp, was a pip, in fact it took nearly four minutes more for Wallace and Cameron to go over than the latter took for the Brampton course. It included pavement, clay road, gravel, broken pasture, ploughed fields, bush, gates and fences. The boys ran in issue boots and only one entrant of 37 competing failed to cross the finish line, indicating that these young fighting men, who make up the reinforcements to finish the job overseas, are mighty tough boys and in perfect condition.

Sports service league have again come through with a long list of sporting goods for the armed forces. Aurora Ordnance is among those to benefit, with softball balls, bats and other equipment scheduled to be forwarded to the Depot. Bigger centres, where the canteen funds are more plentiful, pretty well look after themselves, but it is especially the boys overseas, prisoners of war, and boys in the more remote posts who benefit most by the work of the league, which is entirely as it should be. The S.S.L. is one outfit the sports fans should consider when making gifts to war charities or in attending benefit sports bills.

Jackie Hamilton, sensational young hockey star with Toronto Maple Leafs, is an O.S. with the Canadian navy at Toronto. Other prominent hockeyists to sign with the navy since the hockey season include Floyd Curry and Kenny Smith of the championship Oshawa General team.

Bob Urquhart, sterling backfielder for the Newmarket camp soccer team, has been promoted to the rank of lance-sergeant, and is a fine addition to Faddy Farrell's men. The Newmarket roundballers are playing more or less in and out football these days, but the competition is a little sterner in group B than was at first expected. The boys at the weekend had won two and lost three, the Hagersham team from Toronto, composed almost entirely of Jewish lads, downing the Newmarket team on their own field 3-0. Capt. Pete Kerr, popular auxiliary sports officer at the camp right now, is one of the bright luminaries on the Newmarket team.

Red Rudderham, a strapping 19-year-old youngster from Liverpool, N.S., got Newmarket hardballers off to a flying start in the Congress hardball series last week as he pitched the camp to a sensational 4-0 win over the Cheelaas of Hagersham R.C.A.F. The alrmen

They have also secured the support of prominent men like R.
L. Mackland, the attorney-general, to form an advisory committee for the good of the game. In many things on the sports front the east can gain some valuable promotion ideas from the west and west coast. Trouble is most of us are satisfied with doing in our own little world and are apt to look askance when somebody pops up with a new idea.

One year ago next week, a young Newmarket lad had just won the district army pole vault and high jump championships and led Newmarket camp to two sweeping smashes in the track and field world. Last week the same lad graduated as a navigator with the R.C.A.F. at London. The name?
Bob Dales, son of Major Lowell Dales of Newmarket. He has two brothers on active service and his youngest brother, Tommy Dales, a few weeks back kept up the family tradition of being the best all-round athlete at Newmarket high school.

The record of the Dales brothers,

Tennis appears to have taken a bit of an upsurge among the younger sets in the district. Roy Faulkner, master at Aurora high school, has things percolating at Aurora and many fine young players are being developed.

Youthful Harry Hill, son of Percy Hill, one of the neighboring village's leading sportsmen, is president of the Richmond Hill club.
Membership in the latter organization is 43 and there has been a good response for members. Betty Smith and Phyllis Angle and Mac Clement, nifty young catcher for the Hill juveniles, are leading lights in the club.

The Stouffville tennis court will again see no action as attempts to form a club there failed. The park trustees will keep the courts in good condition in the hope that when hostilities cease they will be used.

Max Reesor, one-time hockey great, now confining his sporting activities to refereeing and lawn bowling (he is one of the best in the district) has taken over the coaching duties of Markham juvenile hardballers who made their first appearance of the season in Aurora this week. The Markham kids are improving each time out and, while they are not quite too much luck to date, will be heard from later.

Young Howard Forgie, whose two brothers played hockey for Markham juniors the past winter,
as did other brothers before them,
is a smart little hurler and well handled by young Summerfeldt, a native of Unionville. Forgie has three brothers on active service.

Hardball has been absent from Markham for quite a few years, but with the Lions club behind the youngsters, seems to be due for quite a big year.

We were surprised when that totted of hardball, Stouffville, failed to enter teams in the North York kids' league. With fellows like Shine Davis, Wes. Broadway, Red Forsythe and other former ball enthusiasts kicking around, it seems strange not to see Stouffville assuming its former role. It may be that material is scarce, but it couldn't be any greener than the boys at the other candlot stars. Perhaps before the summer is over some action will be taken to rectify things.

Chad Bark, mighty atom of the C.A.C. hockey league and storm centre of Barrie's quest for the junior B hockey title, is serving overseas. Bark, a nemesis for St.
Andrew's College rugby and football teams when he played for U.T.S., played several seasons in the Belmont Beach last fall and was captain of No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. hockey team. In a game at Newmarket he scored two neat goals against the camp.

Despite the fact he only weighed around 150 pounds and is a half-pint in size, he really tossed the bigger fellows around. He always wore a brace for his back to avoid injury, a regular strait-jacket affair, and not many fellows would have played as carefree. He also performed for a spell in the softball outfield for both Newmarket and No. 3 last fall.

Orilla rink, better known as Eplett's ice palace, or "the barn,"
has been leased to a Toronto-Hamilton group who are installing a floor and readying it for roller-skating, boxing and dancing. Further arrangements are being made to improve the skating capacity and the ice surface for hockey, which will be good news indeed for district teams who have to perform there.

Kenny Dixon, defence star with the championship Brampton Bullets, is now stationed at Camp Borden and is endeavoring to get lacrosse going there. Dixon two years ago was top scorer in the national games at Ottawa and last year played with Brampton army and with the Combines in their quest for the Mann cup.

Lack of equipment, sticks, pads,
etc., is one of the big reasons lacrosse is not played more in the army, plus the prevalence of injuries, especially when fellows are just learning the game. Lacrosse is not doing too well in Ontario these days and it is time missionary work was done among the youngsters on a larger scale—
the same type that is being done in the district for hardball.

At Winnipeg, a strong minor league is attracting good crowds and really bringing back the game.
The same conditions prevail in Vancouver, where, as a prelude to the big games at the Forum, which are attracting big crowds, kid teams go at it hammer and tongs, much to the joy of the spectators.
New Westminster Salmonbellies, current Mann cup holders, are bowling over all opposition on the west coast and should be sure pops for the trophy again. Army and Navy are providing strong opposition and two civilian clubs, Duranda and Richmond, provide inand out performances.

The town midgets suffered another defeat at the hands of the Richmond Hill kids 8-7 on Monday evening at the Hill.

Fans who are interested in seeing some good ball should be on hand at Stuart Scott school grounds this evening. George Haskett says the boys were outlacked at the Hill but the tables will be turned when they meet again.

Ken. Broughton pitched a fine game for the kids but due to poor hitting the Newmarketers were on the short end of the score.

The ladies' softball league got off to a flying start Monday evening when the more balanced Town team trimmed the Office Specialty girls. It was one of those games where lack of practice and inexperienced players were the cause of downfall, but before the season rolls around, when these two teams meet, the shoe may easily be on the other foot.

Mona Dean of the Specialty, pitching for the first time, shows promise of being one of the league's best twirlers. Shirley Ward looked after the catching duties.

With a few more games Coach Pete Neufeld will have a strong club. Most of the girls are heavy hitters.

The Town girls, dolled in the 1939 aggregation uniforms, led by Phyllis Osborne on the mound and Deane Muirhead behind the plate, played heads-up ball. The girls are all good batters and veteran softballers.

Coach Melvin Ruddock has gathered together a strong club. Town: Viola Rutledge ss, Deane Muirhead c, Margaret VanZant lb, Dorothy Dales 2b, Ruth Armitage 3b, Gertrude Widdifield rf, Agnes Wilmot cf, Shirley Andrews lf, Phyllis Osborne p.

Specialty: Grace Scott 2b, Marion Crowder lb, Lois Manning ss, Mona Dean p, Mary Moore 3b, Helen Robinson cf, Shirley Ward c, Doris McKelvey rf, Eileen Brown lf.

The game scheduled for Friday evening between Davis Leather and Dixon Pencil should be a keen contest. These two clubs are evenly matched.

It was hoped that the C.W.A.C.'s of No. 23 could play in the Newmarket ladies' league but due to entry in the military league were unable to find time. They will play exhibition games with any challenger any time, they promised.

You won't get to Berlin in an Armchair!

IF Canada and the United Nations had depended upon "Armchair Soldiers" to fight this war, the Nazis and Japs would have grabbed this country long ago.

There is no "Royal Road" to Berlin. It's fighting all the way and Canada's Army needs every man it can get. That's why, today, you should volunteer for overseas service. You'll need months of intensive training to make you fighting-fit.

Don't be a stay-at-home and let the other fellow do it. Get into a man's uniform with the G.S. badge of honour on your sleeve. If we're going to win this war, we'll have to do more than just read about it in the papers.

So, come on you fellows, the good old army has got to finish the job!
